DRS. RISNER AND TOWNER
VISIT THE UNIVER-SITY.

Tuesday morning Dr. Hulley arose at the opening of the chapel service and stated that he had been at Stetson for fourteen years, that two years previous to his coming Mr. Moody had held a series of services in the University Auditorium, being assisted by Dr. Towner. Then after a few remarks of commendation, turned to Dr. Towner, who sat on the platform and asked him to sing for us.

Dr. Towner arose and after a few reminiscences, announced the hymn he expected to sing, requesting that we lose sight of the singer but to make sure the theme of his song. It is to be doubted if any, however, did lose sight of the singer, but at the same time the spirit of the song will live in the hearts of many who heard it for years to come.

After the song by Dr. Towner, Dr. Hulley arose and told of his long acquaintance with Dr. Risner and then introduced him as being learned in science and philosophy, versed in literature, well informed in geology and history, and valued for his ability to tell a negro story calculated to drive one into hysterics.

In a few minutes after arising to speak, Dr. Risner established himself in the reputation Dr. Hulley gave him. Few speakers have visited Stetson who held the interest of the fellows as did Dr. Risner. A few remarks that were heard as we went to our classes after the lecture, will perhaps give a little better idea of how well Dr. Risner's lecture was appreciated. These remarks are recorded below as they were heard from various ones:

"I'm glad I went to chapel this morning."

"This hour was not lost."

"He's there with the goods."

"That was great."

"I had rather be able to make a speech like that than be able to win a famous case at law."

Thoughts that "we are at war at home," "That we are successes now at the thing we have undertaken," and that "Christ looks for the cross and not the crown," will long be remembered by many of those who heard Drs. Towner and Risner. May they come again.

COLLEGIATE PROFITS.

Dean Holmes, of Penn State College, has figured out what a college education is worth to the average man. Comparing the earnings of the college graduate with the non-college man, he finds that, during the course of the working period, the returns on that four years' investment are some $20,000. His conclusions are based on a wide range of investigation from which he derived a wage of $518 per year for the non-college worker and $1,187 per year for the college graduate.

Feinberg—I am thinking of going into the service as an aviator.

Caro—Well, "Finney," I see in the papers that all applicants have to show their nerve by climbing up the side of the Woolworth Building.

DR. HULLEY LECTURES.

A party composed of Dr. and Mrs. Hulley and daughter, Mary, and Misses Lord, Sinnott, Mary Moss, Ejdar Stenwall, Louise Watts and Elsie Ward motored to New Smyrna Friday evening, where Dr. Hulley lectured on, "Over the Top." The party enjoyed a delicious dinner at the Ocean House, after which the program consisting of the lecture by Dr. Hulley, a reading, "Old Glory," by Miss Hulley, and musical numbers by Misses Moss, Stenwall and Watts was given to an appreciative audience.

Dr. Hulley and daughter, Miss Mary, accompanied by Misses Florence Smith, Lillian Carlton and Myrtle Barbe, motored to Daytona Saturday night, where Dr. Hulley lectured on "Over the Top."

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES.

The first Christmas packets for the Stetson boys of last year in the service were mailed on Saturday. These packets went to five of our boys who are now abroad: W. A. Pattishall, Bob Moore, Paul Hon, Russell Rasco, and Norman Blakely.

Those for the boys who are in the service in our own country are being prepared and it is planned to have them ready for mailing by Thanksgiving time. The girls of the Y. W. C. A. are making scrapbooks for the packets. Anyone having any news clippings, jokes, or snapshots of Stetson life which would be suitable for the scrapbooks will be assisting greatly in the work by handing all such material to Marion Hanne or Mildred Smith.

KRUCIBLE KLUB.

Tuesday, Nov. 6, the Krucible Klub held its first meeting in Science Hall. This club is composed of students studying chemistry and has for its purpose the investigation of scientific subjects. Mr. Childers was elected president, Eugene Hoffner vice president, Miss Peters secretary, and Arthur Moor program manager.

Tuesday, Nov. 13, the Krucible Klub met at 7:30 o'clock and an interesting program was begun. First Miss Ladd gave an interesting talk on the production of cocoa. Miss Klicker was not present but will give her paper next Tuesday Dr. Barrell then gave an address on "Valence," which was for the special benefit of the Freshman class. Mr. Childers closed the program with a vital account of the phosphate industry in Florida. Dr. Barrell gave the critic's report.

An especially interesting program has been arranged for the next two weeks and the club promises to be a great success.

The program for next week will be as follows:

Osmotic Pressure and the theory of solution, by Miss Klicker.

Laboratory Romance, Miss Bertha Peters.

A Summer's Experience in the Du Ponts Powder factory, Prof. Rockwood.

The Manufacture of Pneumatic Tires, G. M. Pact.

In Criminal Law.

Landis—Dean, is it a crime to elope with a girl?

EUSOPHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

The girls of the Eusophian Literary Society are having a series of programs on the general subject of the war. Following is the program for this week:

Song—"The Red, White, and Blue, All.

Current Events—World Wide, Lucy Gilbert.

Extended Reading from "Over the Top"—Mary Hulley.

Song—America, All.

SOCIETY.

November 9.

The Eusophian Literary Society held its regular meeting in the Carnegie Library on November 9. A large attendance was on hand and the following program was given:

1. Current Events—Domestic, Deneise Franklin.

2. Current Events—Foreign, Ethel Ladd.

3. Reading upon some phase of the war, Catherine Collard.

4. Music—Columbia, Gem of the Ocean.

The girls show their patriotism by singing a National Song at each meeting and in buying a Liberty Bond. We are glad that so many girls are taking an interest in the meetings. The society invites all College girls to come and show their loyalty to the school.

VARSITY CLUB.

The Varsity Club has been having some excellent programs this year. College men who are not members of the Varsity Club and who do not attend the regular weekly meetings are foregoing one of the biggest opportunities available at Stetson. The Varsity Club has won fame in the past as a debating society and several of the old landmarks are still there to uphold the good reputation—"Heine" Lofquist, "Snipe" Zeigler, "Dug" Roseborough, Floyd Northrop, Linton Pickard, etc. Then there is some splendid new material that will do much to keep the average high.

Last Friday night the following question was debated: "Resolved that all post office buildings should be erected by the town in which they are located rather than by the Federal Government," with Roseborough and Peterson on the affirmative and Moor and Welsh on the negative side. The judges decided that Uncle Sam's present system was good enough and awarded the decision to the negative.

This week the Varsity Club is going to resolve itself into the United States Senate. Watch out for some radical changes in the order of things. The "senators" have several very original and novel bills to present at this session and a lively time is expected. All college men are cordially invited to attend this and all other Varsity Club meetings.

ENTERTAINED.

Misses Helen Ake and Ethel Sholtz were delightfully entertained by friends in Palatka over the week-end.

STETSON LITERARY SOCIETY

Friday evening, Nov. 9, was one of lively interest shown by all the members present, of the Stetson Literary Society. The attendance was better and we are glad to see the members take so much interest in their society. Just "keep the good work up." The main thing of importance now is the debate we are to have with the Deland Public School Literary Society. The time has not been set exactly, but it will probably be before Christmas. The Stetson Lit. S. has won many other debates of more importance, for instance, Duval High School several times, Sanford High School and others, so there is no reason why the ones chosen for this debate cannot put up strong enough arguments in behalf of the Stetson Lit. to win the debate without any trouble.

The following interesting program was given at the last meeting Friday, Nov. 9:

Stetson Star, Evelyn Webster.

Current Events, Edwin Webster.

Reading, Christina Stockley.

Extemporaneous Debate:

Resolved, That Liberty Loans

should be bought by all the schools. Affirmative, Mr. Mallory,

Negative, Ada Mae Stallings.

The judges decided in favor of the Negative.

Parliamentary Practice, Clyatt

Lewis.

Senior Critic's Report.

The meeting then adjourned.

Kathryn Leisher,
Reporter.

MILITARY.

Stetson's military companies are rapidly getting into fighting shape and do the drills like old timers. About eighty-five men are taking the drill. These eighty-five are doing their bit for Stetson and for the country and are displaying a fine enthusiasm in the military work. Major Lowe and Captain Shallene are proud of Stetson's soldiers and they have a right to be, they've got the sticktoitiveness and the pep that means success in anything that they attempt and that's why they are making good soldiers.

The eighty-five men compose Stetson's battalion and this battalion is divided into two companies. Officers and non-commissioned officers for these companies will be selected by Major Lowe and Captain Shallene from the men who make the best showing at drill, the best soldiers will get the best jobs, and every man is working for one of these jobs. Walter Adams and George Barger are acting as temporary captains to the companies until the permanent appointments are made.

There should be a hundred in Stetson's battalion instead of eighty-five. We need a hundred. We have got to have a hundred. You fellows who have not been coming out to drill and have not been exempted come on in and do your bit.

She Did Her Bit.

First Hen—"Have you done your 'bit?'"

Second Hen—"Well, I should cluck! Ought to see the fine trench I made in the vegetable garden next door."

FOUR TYPES OF MEN.

French Method of Picking Soldiers
For Special Lines of Work.

"A good judge of human nature is born and not made," declared Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University. "Baseball scouts are not able to tell how they pick men; neither can any employer tell how he picks his men."

Dr. Hall described the French system of dividing men into four types and selecting them for particular positions in the army accordingly. He said:

"First—The digestive type. It is characteristic of the heavy jaw, broad abdominal region. Such men require more food, need it regularly, must be well fed. Such men are best on the defensive. They are hard to dislodge from the trenches.

"Second—The respiratory type. Nostrils and ears are large; large, long chest; demand plenty of pure air; get restive under confinement. Such men are selected for work on high mountains. They are good in the charge, in making an attack. Such men exclusively are selected for the aviation corps.

"Third—The muscular type. Head is square, limbs long and strong, body short. This type is good for the bayonet charge in the artillery service.

"Fourth—The nervous type. Large head tapers down to a sharp jaw. Such men have power to draw upon their reserves. They can get their second wind. The really great are men of this type. Along with this type is closely associated a willingness to sacrifice self for the good of others.

"Children and animals are guided by the desire to gain pleasure and avoid pain. As they grow older they should learn to bear present pain for future pleasure."—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

ACADEMY NOTICE.

All loyal members of the J. B. S. U. Academy should become members of the Stetson Lit. It is the only society of the University which is open to every student of the Academy. There is splendid material for debates and parliamentary work among the students who are not and never have been members of this society. The work done here will prepare us for the societies in the college. If the meetings are considered not interesting, add your name to the enrollment, become interested yourself, and help us make it interesting for others. Come to the meeting in Science Hall Friday at 6:30.

Y. W. C. A.

November 11 to 19 is World Fellowship Week, a special week of prayer in the Young Women's Christian Associations of the World. The local association had planned special meetings for each morning of this week and they have been held in the back parlor at Chaudoin twenty minutes before breakfast.

"Tasks in hours of insight willed
Can be in hours of gloom fulfilled."

Once more; give us your assistance. You are doing better, but we must have more local news.

Who will send us a letter for next week's issue on any phase of our college life? You can at least criticize The Collegiate, in fact that is what we are for. Come on now.

We are in receipt of a pamphlet entitled Documents Looking Toward Peace, and containing four valuable papers, the first of which may be found on page four of this issue of The Collegiate. In successive issues we shall publish the remaining three and commend them to your consideration.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley was at his best in his great address on The Comrade in White, delivered at the Vesper Service last Sunday afternoon. Seldom has an audience been more enthused than was that which listened to this great address at that hour. Taking as his scripture reading that part of the New Testament where Christ appeared to the disciples after his crucifixion, on the road to Emeaus, Dr. Hulley dwelt at length upon the alleged appearances of Christ on the western battle front in Europe. We are not sure in what sense Dr. Hulley wished his hearers to understand these reports, nor are we sure he wished them to be understood at all. The evidence, as given by the speaker seems sufficient to compel even a cautious and skeptical man to give pause and consider whether his philosophy is sufficient for these things. We believe it would be worth while if Dr. Hulley would attempt to give us some critical estimate of these phenomena; for as college men and women we shall be interested to know what educated people may be permitted to think in regard to such things.

OH JOY! THE KAISER BECOMES OWNER OF A LIBERTY LOAN BOND

The Imperial German Government is the owner of a Liberty Loan Bond. A Philadelphia attorney has been handling funds of German estates in and about Philadelphia and in settling one account recently he had a balance of $60, which belonged to the Imperial German Government.
Yesterday he applied $50 of that amount to a Liberty Bond to help
the United States to win the war.

An Island.

"Chimmie, what's a island?"
"Why, it's a place you can't git away from without a boat."

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The students were saddened to learn on Thursday of last week, of the death of the mother of Miss Jean Eggleston. Miss Eggleston is a Senior here, and her many friends extend to her their sympathy.

Misses Rachel Brocksmit and Edith Hill of Chaudoin spent last week-end with friends in Vero.

Uncle Dan Blocker was called home Thursday by the illness of his mother.

Miss Alice Sarven is the weekend guest of Miss Harriette Crane
at her home in New Smyrna.

Mr. Butler Dawd spent the week-end with his parents at Palatka.

Mr. Long spent the week-end
at his home in Sanford.

Mr. Julian Hazard motored to Sanford Friday afternoon, reporting
a pleasant trip.

Mr. Lew Barstow, a former student of Stetson and one of Stetson's football heroes, recently underwent an operation for an injury to his spine received last year in his athletic activities. He is on the road to recovery and still has his smile that won't wear off.

Mr. Chubby Chalker of Cocoa, a former student of Stetson, was a visitor of the Phi Si house Sunday.

Mr. Herman Mohr left last Saturday for Apalachicola, Fla., where he will remain until after Christmas when he plans to re-enter the University.

A PERFECT DAY.

An auto load of Benton girls
consisting of the Hunter sisters, Miss Calvert, Miss Ayer and another one, attended the funeral Wednesday of Miss Helen Smith and put in the rest of the day fishing.
They report a jolly time (Editor's Note—We refuse to divulge the source of our information.)

Amount of the Second Liberty Loan.

The amount of the Second Liberty Loan subscriptions which will be accepted is $3,308,766,150, which is the $3,000,000,000 offered and one-half of the oversubscription of approximately 54 per cent.

LUCK AND LAZINESS.

Luck tapped upon a cottage door,
A gentle, quiet tap,
And Laziness, who lounged within,
The cat upon his lap,
Stretched out his slippers to the fire
And gave a sleepy yawn;
"Oh, bother! let him knock again!"
He said, but luck was gone.

Luck tapped again, more faintly
still,

Upon another door.
Where Industry was hard at work
Mending his cottage floor.
The door was opened wide at once;
"Come in!" the worker cried;
And Luck was shaken by the hand
And fairly pulled inside.

He is still there—a wondrous guest,
From out whose magic hand
Flows Fortune fast—but Laziness
Can never understand How Industry found such a friend.

"Luck never came my way,"
He sighs, and quite forgets the knock
Upon his door that day.

HARVARD MEN AT WAR.

"I am not sorry, but proud that 40% of Harvard University has gone into the war," says President Lowell of Harvard. His sentiment is no doubt shared by many other college presidents all over the country.

The loss of over half of the two upper classes at Yale, Princeton and Harvard is duplicated in many colleges. The professional and graduate schools other than engineering show even heavier losses.
The Harvard Law School and Graduate School of Business Administration register only 32% and 34% respectively of their normal numbers.

On the other hand there is a larger attendance at many military, engineering and medical schools, as illustrated in an increase of 8% in the Harvard Medical School.

In a little matter of four lines
the Ocala Banner delivers an excellent sermon that would be useful all over the state. "Fine feathers make fine birds," says the Banner; "fine clothes make good looking people and trim flower gardens and green lawns make pretty cities." There is no good reason why Florida should not be attractive in every way. Flowers and trees and grass grow easily and well, with little help, and every yard should be a little picture of beauty.—Times-Union.

Avocados (alligator pears) are reported as retailing in New York for as high as $1.50 apiece.

If people could only realize the demoralizing influence of holding the sickly ideal, the failure ideal,
in the mind until the standards of excellence are all dragged down to the level of mediocrity or commonness, they would never again be content to dwell in the valley of failure, to live in the basements
of their lives.—Orison Swett Marden.

The Topeka Capital says: "Be your own food price regulator
by refusing to deal with profiteering grocers." The difficulty is that it will be some time yet before the profiteering grocer can be distinguished from the honest dealer who is at the mercy of profiteers higher up.

My son, we should lay up a stock of absurd enthusiasms in our youth or else we shall reach the end of our journey with an empty heart, for we lose a great many of them by the way.—Victor Cherbuliez.

Try This One.

Needy One—"I say, old man, could you lend me a dollar for a day or two?"

Other One—"My dear fellow,
the dollar I lend is out at present and I've several names down for it when it comes back."

"There are some things money can't buy," sighs the stage heroine sentimentally. And everybody in the audience thinks of coal, sugar,
pork, flour and other commodities
there is a shortage on.—Portland Argus.

DOCUMENTS LOOKING TOWARD PEACE

Message from His Holiness Benedictus XV, Pope.

To the rulers of the belligerent peoples:

From the beginning of our pontificate, in the midst of the horrors of the awful war let loose on Europe, we have had of all things three in mind: To maintain perfect impartiality toward all the belligerents as becomes him who is the common father and loves all his children with equal affection; continually to endeavor to do them all as much good as possible, without exception of person, without distinction of nationality or religion, as is dictated to us by the universal law of charity as well as by the supreme spiritual charge with which we have been intrusted by Christ; finally, as also required by our mission of peace, to omit nothing, as far as it lay in our power, that could contribute to expedite the end of those calamities by endeavoring to bring the peoples and their rulers to more moderate resolutions, to the serene deliberation of peace, of a just and lasting peace.

Whoever has watched our endeavors in these three previous years that have just elapsed could easily see that while we remained ever true to our resolution of absolute impartiality and beneficent action, we never ceased to urge the belligerent peoples and Governments again to be brothers, although all that we did to reach this very noble goal was not made public.

About the end of the first year of the war we addressed to the contending nations the most earnest exhortations and in addition pointed to the path that would lead to a stable peace honorable to all. Unfortunately our appeal was not heeded and the war was fiercely carried on for two more years with all its horrors. It became even more cruel and spread over land and sea and even to the air, and desolation and death were seen to fall upon defenseless cities, peaceful villages, and their innocent populations. And now no one can imagine how much the general suffering would increase and become worse if other months or, still worse, other years were added to this sanguinary triennium. Is this civilized world to be turned into a field of death, and is Europe so glorious and flourishing, to rush, as carried by a universal folly, to the abyss and take a hand in its own suicide?

In so distressing a situation, in the presence of so grave a menace, we who have no political aim, who listen to the suggestions or interests of none of the belligerents, but are solely actuated by the sense of our supreme duty as the common father of the faithful, by the solicitations of our children who implore our intervention and peace-bearing word, uttering the very voice of humanity and reason, we again call for peace and we renew a pressing appeal to those who have in their hands the destinies of the nations. But no longer confining ourselves to general terms, as we were led to do by circumstances in the past, we will now come to more concrete and practical proposals and invite the Governments of the belligerent peoples to arrive at an agreement on the following points, which seem to offer the base of a just and lasting peace, leaving it with them to make them more precise and complete:

First, the fundamental point must be that the material force of arms give way to the moral force of right, whence a just agreement of all upon the simultaneous and reciprocal decrease of armaments, according to rules and guarantees to be established, in the necessary and sufficient measures for the maintenance of public order in every State; then, taking the place of arms, the institution of arbitration, with its high pacifying function, according to rules to be drawn in concert and under sanctions to be determined against any State which would decline either to refer international questions to arbitration or to accept its awards.

When supremacy of right is thus established, let every obstacle to ways of communication of the peoples be removed by insuring, through rules to be also determined, the true freedom and community of the seas, which, on the one hand, would eliminate many causes of conflict and, on the other hand, would open to all new sources of prosperity and progress.

As for the damages to be repaid and the cost of the war, we see no other way of solving the question than by setting up the general principle of entire reciprocal condonation which would be justified by the immense benefit to be derived from disarmament, all the more as one could not understand that such carnage could go on for mere economic reasons. If certain particular reasons stand against this in certain cases, let them be weighed in justice and equity.

But these specific agreements, with the immense advantages that flow from them, are not possible unless territory now occupied is reciprocally restituted. Therefore, on the part of Germany, total evacuation of Belgium, with guarantees of its entire political, military, and economic independence toward any power whatever; evacuation also of the French territory; on the part of the other belligerents a similar restitution of the German colonies.

As regards territorial questions as, for instance, those that are disputed by Italy and Austria, by Germany and France, there is reason to hope that in consideration of the immense advantages of durable peace with disarmament, the contending parties will examine in a conciliatory spirit, taking into account as far as is just and possible, as we have said formerly, the aspirations of the population, and if occasion arises adjusting private interests to the general good of the great human society.

The same spirit of equity and justice must guide the examination of other territorial and political questions, notably those relative to Armenia, the Balkan States, and the territories forming part of the old Kingdom of Poland, for which, in particular, its noble historical traditions and the suffering particularly undergone during the present war, must win, with justice, the sympathies of the nations.

These, we believe, are the main bases upon which must rest the future reorganization of the peoples. They are such as to make the recurrence of such conflicts impossible and open the way for the solution of the economic question which is so important for the future and the material welfare of all the belligerent states. And so, in presenting them to you who, at this tragic hour, guide the destinies of the belligerent nations, we indulge a gratifying hope that they will be accepted and that we shall thus see an early termination of the terrible struggle which has more and more the appearance of a useless massacre. Everybody acknowledges on the other hand that on both sides the honor of arms is safe. Do not, then, turn a deaf ear to our prayer, accept the parental invitation which we extend to you in the name of the Divine Redeemer, Prince of Peace. Bear in mind your very grave responsibility to God and man; on your decision depend the quiet and joy of numberless families, the lives of thousands of young men, the happiness, and in a word, of the peoples to whom it is your imperative duty to secure this boon. May the Lord inspire you with decisions conformable to His very holy will. May Heaven grant that in winning the applause of your contemporaries you will also earn from the future generations the great titles of pacificators.

As for us, closely united in prayer and penitence with all the faithful souls who yearn for peace, we implore for you the divine spirit, enlightenment, and guidance. Given at the Vatican, August 1, 1917.
 Benedictus, P. M. XV.

 A three-hundred pound man stood gazing longingly at the enticing display in a haberdasher's window. A friend stopped to inquire if he was thinking of buying the marked-down lavender silk shirt.
 "Gosh, no!" replied the fat man wistfully. "The only thing that fits me ready-made is a handkerchief."
